"Whereas or I turn my view,
All is strange, yet nothing new."

France intends to renew her existing debt accords with the United States, so it looks as though we were going to keep on getting nothing right along. Thank goodness! we are holding our own.

Another cool strike is settled out in Iowa. Back to Des Moines!

A couple of Detroit gentlemen join the Francis Drake Club. It is a curious fact that although Magellan didn't complete the circumnavigation of the globe his name is known to millions who never heard of del Cano.

Negroes rise up and interest the Federal Government through its holding company, the G. O. P., in the charge that they aren't allowed to get near the polls in the wet-dripping dry-voting Constitution-loving South. Watch your step, Dixie!

Date is set for arguments on the appeals in the Snyder-Gray case. Snyder! Gray! The names somehow seem to have a familiar sound. Are they the ones that swam the English Channel last June?

The discovery of a whale of a gold mine in the Philippines must be regarded as conclusive proof that those Filipinos aren't capable of self-government.

It is beginning to be suspected that both the debt-reductions and tax-slashes are going to find themselves in the mortifying position of the urchin who was bluntly told "there ain't going to be no core."

Dry Chief Looman's announcement that he is going to drive the bootlegger out of our colleges and universities must be rather disconcerting to those who had imagined that the bootie didn't need an education. But what becomes of the boast that the present generation of young people don't know what an old-fashioned saloon was like?

The old-fashioned college boy who used to have to go to town to get drunk—"and gosh! how I do dread it"—now has a successor who can get incandescent without leaving the dormitory. Every generation has its own system.

You can send a man to jail for life in the land of the apes and the home of the knave for having a pint of gin on the hip, but the government that tries to make a felony out of an offense that doesn't violate the Ten Commandments adds just one more law for its citizens to hold in contempt.

Sr. Calles eliminates a presidential rival without slinging mud.

It will not readily be recalled that the framers of the Fordney-McCumber act when they wrote that able document took into consideration the obligations we were under to France on account of Lafayette.

France seems to be treating our tariff act with the same respect that the Volstead law has for a bottle of Champagne.

We are still guessing on the Pi rates.

The Winston-Salem tobacco season opens with 1,000,000 pounds of leaf "on the floor." The capital of North Carolina is rather appropriately named after Sir Walter.

The Mexican pre-convention campaign seems to be opening a little louder this season than usual.

It is suggested that Smith and Vane take their oaths of office before a justice of the peace before the Senate gets at 'em, but it isn't the swearing in that counts so much as the cussing out.

"There was an old hen, and she was full of push,
She laid an egg under the mulberry bush;
She laid an egg all over the farm won't do no harm."

Colorado hen claims the world's championship with 225 eggs in as many days, but we're still betting on the fowl Mother Goose told of who never quit.

"Higgedy-piggledy, my black hen,
She lays eggs for gentlemen;
Gentlemen come EVERY day,
To see what my black hen doth lay."

Mexicans naturally turn to Morrow—they think he's their old friend Mañana.

"Again she plunges! hark! a second shock
Bilges the splitting vessel on the rock."

It is feared that the pride of the Gloucester fleet is lost, another tragic chapter written in the story of "Captains Courageous."

"Passed by the Pennsylvania State Board of Censorship."

MEXICO EXECUTES SERRANO AS REBEL AND 13 FOLLOWERS

Gen. Gomez, Aspirant to Presidency, Is Said to Be Surrounded.

TORREON COUP FAILS; ALL OFFICERS KILLED

Battle Reported in Progress at Texcoco; Vera Cruz Moving Capital.

Mexico City, Oct. 4 (A.P.).—The iron hand of Calles already has fallen upon the alleged instigators of the military revolt. Less than 24 hours after the uprising started in Mexico City, Gen. Francisco Serrano, candidate for the presidency, former war minister and once close friend of Gen. Obregon, declared to be the main leader in the attempt against the government, was captured, court-martialed and executed. Thirteen of his most prominent followers also paid the supreme penalty.

With the mutiny of three companies of the twenty garrisoned in Mexico City at midnight Sunday, and reports of threatened risings in various parts of the republic, President Calles and Gen. Obregon, whose aspirations for another term in the presidential chair are believed to have brought about the widespread movement of revolt, immediately prepared plans for crushing the rebellion. Gen. Obregon declared that he would withdraw his candidacy, if necessary, and take the field against the anti-Calles forces.

No Details of Deaths. Loyal troops, aided by airplanes, were sent immediately in pursuit of the mutineers who had proceeded toward Puebla. How well they succeeded in their task is indicated by an official bulletin issued this morning. The bulletin gives no details regarding the capture and execution of these men, but states briefly:

"Gen. Francisco Serrano, one of the leaders in the uprising, was captured in the state of Morelos, together with a group of his companions, by loyal troops commanded by Gen. Juan Dominguez. They were summarily court-martialed and executed."

The names of those executed together with Serrano were given out as follows: Gen. Carlos A. Vidal, governor of the state of Chiapas; Gen. Miguel and Daniel Peralta; Rafael Martinez Escobar, attorney and prominent political leader and supporter of Gen. Arnulfo Gomez in the present presidential campaign; Alonso Capetill, Augusto Pena, Antonio Jauregui, Ernesto Noriega Mendez.

Move Marks Chess Championship Match

Buenos Aires, Oct. 4 (A.P.).—The fifth drawn game in the world's chess championship match was recorded here tonight when Jose R. Capablanca, of Cuba, the champion, and Alexander Alekhine, Russian Challenger, agreed to draw their eighth game.

Only one move was made tonight by the contestants after resumption of the game, adjourned from yesterday. The standing now is: Capablanca two; Alekhine, one. Drawn, five.

The ninth game will be played tomorrow night.

SCHLEE, WORLD FLIER STRICKEN AT BANQUET

Collapses From the Strain of Long Trip as He Is About to Speak.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 4 (A.P.).—Edward F. Schlee, navigator of the around-the-world plane Pride of Detroit, collapsed here tonight at a banquet given in honor of himself and William S. Brock, pilot of the plane. Mayor John Smith, assisted by others carried the flier from the room. After restoratives were applied, Schlee was able to proceed to his home.

Schlee, when he arose, said he first wanted to explain a few things regarding the hop to the Midway Islands from Japan, which in some quarters was termed a "suicide hop."

"There seems to be a general misconception," he said, then, faltering, he fell heavily to his seat.

Friends attributed the collapse to nervous strain incident to the strenuous trip ended today, when Schlee and Brock returned to Detroit after their near-record globe encircling tour.

Georgia Coroner's Auto Kills Girl, 4

Eastman, Ga., Oct. 4 (A.P.).—Four-year-old Virginia Bond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bond, who live near here, was killed when she was run over by an automobile driven by Coroner R. L. Revel near her home late yesterday.

The coroner was returning here after holding an inquest over the body of W. H. Powell, who was slain Saturday by a negro, and reported the child dashed in front of his automobile while at play. He overturned the machine in a ditch in an effort to prevent the accident, which, authorities said, was unavoidable.

DRYS IN SOUTH DAKOTA START FIGHT ON SMITH

Organization Democrats Favor Governor as Only Party Man Standing Chance.

By PHILIP KINSLEY.
Special to The Washington Post.

Sioux Falls, S. Dak., Oct. 4.—Al Smith Democrats in South Dakota are confident of carrying their candidate through the State proposal conventions next spring, and although the dries are forming against this, the situation at present favors a Smith delegation from this State.

A lively party row has already been started, forerunner of the national antagonism that will be aroused by the Smith candidacy. The open opposition is dry, but there is an undercurrent of a religious character observable here.

Organization Democrats are looking askance at the Smith movement, calling it irregular and unofficial, but there is no other candidate in the field to stop him. His supporters are thinking, here as in other Western States, in terms of the nomination, rather than the election, so far as this State is concerned. Smith can not carry South Dakota against a Republican of respectable dryness and particularly one with farm sympathies.

"We are making the campaign for Smith on this basis that he is the only Democrat who has a chance of being elected President," said Holton Davenport, of Sioux Falls, head of the Smith forces.

No one knows today just how South Dakota feels on prohibition. Those who make a business of watching public sentiment think that it is for modification.

The dries in the State, according to H. E. Davies, of Mitchell, secretary of the Antisaloon League, consider the Smith movement a direct challenge. He is suggesting Gov. Vic Donahey as a countercandidate. Others talk of

Champion Hen Lays Egg Daily 225 Days

Pueblo, Colo., Oct. 4 (A.P.).—A new world's egg-laying championship is claimed for Lady Skyline, single-combed white Leghorn hen owned by the Goris Brothers, of Canton City, Colo. The hen today laid her 225th egg in as many days.

Officials in charge of the egg-laying contest here under the auspices of the United States Department of Agriculture and the extension department of the Colorado Agricultural College said the mark set by Lady Skyline establishes the official egg-laying record.

Mrs. Lilliendahl Refuses To Revisit Tragedy Scene

Can Not Bear to See Place of Husband's Death, She Says, With Tears in Eyes—Not Sure Slayers Were Really Negroes.

Hammontop, N. J., Oct. 4 (A.P.).—Police, investigating the slaying of Dr. A. William Lilliendahl, near here September 16, were today again abruptly balked in their efforts to clear up the case when Mrs. Margaret Lilliendahl, the widow, refused to do her part in reenacting the scene in which her husband was shot and killed.

Mrs. Lilliendahl, at first agreeable to the plans of the police, refused to go through with her part on the advice of counsel.

SOME G.O.P. CHIEFS STILL WOULD DRAFT COOLIDGE FOR 1928

Butler Heads Group Here Planning to Swing Convention Tide.

CHAIRMAN IS SILENT ON "CHOOSE" ISSUE

Favorite Son and Uninstructed Delegates to Be Encouraged.

By CARLISLE BARGERON.
There are influential die-hards in the Republican gathering here who still cling to the hope that President Coolidge will be drafted in 1928 and are shaping their plans to that end. They are few in number, probably not more than four or five of the more than twenty party men present, but as long as they hold to their present attitude any other candidate will be handicapped.

The attitude revolves around Senator W. M. Butler, chairman of the Republican national committee, who is absolutely refusing to comment publicly on the President's "choose" statement or the question of whether he would run if drafted. But the senator is as yet by no means defeated in his desire to have Mr. Coolidge run again.

He alone knows whether the President would accept the nomination if tendered to him on a silver platter. But it is a fact that he has not yet abandoned the hope that the President can be forced to run. And around him he has gathered an influential little group of old guard that agrees with him. And its strategy is simply this:

Encourage the sending of uninstructed or favorite son delegations to the convention or delegates pledged to an outstanding man so near the President's kind that they could be persuaded to switch to him.

In the meantime, there is to be no overt act, nothing that would prompt the President to make a more definite statement. No attempt is to be made to get him to amplify his "choose" statement. They hope he will keep quiet and never say another word.

Has Had Many Conferences. Then if their calculations bear out things at the convention will be in a pretty intricate state along about the party or sixth ballot, and there will come the cry for Mr. Coolidge. Men who are a party to the plan will tell you that they frankly do not know what the President would do under the circumstances. Maybe Senator Butler knows. He has certainly had enough conferences with him to know fairly well

Bookkeeper Blinded; Robbed of $1,100 Cash

Daytona Beach, Fla., Oct. 4 (A.P.).—Two bandits this afternoon robbed William Thomas, bookkeeper of the Florida Power & Light Co. here, of $1,100.34.

Thomas told police that the men accosted him as he was en route to a bank, threw the contents of a paper sack into his eyes and grabbed the value.

London Typist Begins Sixth Channel Swim

Cape Gris Nez, France, Oct. 5 (A.P.).—Miss Mercedes Gletsz, London typist, started on her sixth attempt to swim the English Channel at 12:35 a. m. She was escorted by a Falkenstein fishing boat. The weather was fine, but the air and water so chilly that it was not believed that she would be able to endure the swim for any great length of time.

BEATS WIFE TO DEATH; SAYS SHE URGED HIM

"Told Me to Hurry," Husband Tells Police; Woman Was in Great Pain. Minneapolis, Oct. 4 (A.P.).—Because this wife, who was ill, begged him to "put her out of her misery," Adolph Dyplina told police today that he killed her by beating her over the head with a lead pipe. When she was dead, he said, he carried her to the bathroom and bathed her and then returned her to her bed. After taking a walk, he called an undertaker, saying his wife had died "after a long illness."

The undertaker's assistants noticed traces of blood on the woman's head and notified the coroner's office. Investigation led to Dyplina's arrest today and his subsequent confession.

Dyplina said his wife had been ill for a long time and in great pain.

"She asked me, 'Put me out of my misery,'" the statement read. "She even told me to hurry up, so I let her have four or five over the head."

Dyplina led police to the basement of his home and poked up a bloody piece of lead pipe which he had hidden behind the furnace. He said he had used the pipe in killing his wife.

When the undertaker's men arrived Dyplina was washing dishes in the kitchen.

GERMAN AERO HOPS OFF FOR U.S.; ACTRESS ABOARD

Daughter of Painter Slips on D-1230 as Machine Leaves Norderney.

STOP MADE IN HOLLAND

Norderney, Germany, Oct. 4 (A.P.).—The first leg of the latest attempt by German aviators to make the westward Atlantic passage by air ended today at Amsterdam instead of Lisbon, as was scheduled.

Barely 130 miles from the Island Field here, where the start was made at 4:48 o'clock this afternoon, the Junker hydroairplane D-1230 came to anchor after circling the Dutch metropolis.

The trip to Lisbon and thence to the Azores for the long ocean jump will be resumed tomorrow morning.

At the Azores, where the plane will be refueled for the long span to Harbor Grace, Newfoundland. The American port of destination has not been announced.

The D-1230, in command of Frederick Loese, who was on the Bremen when she made her unsuccessful transatlantic attempt in August, is a low wing Junkers model C-34 with pontoons. It is a twelve passenger plane, the cabin of which has been converted into a fuel storage compartment. It carries a complete receiving and sending wireless set and scientific equipment.

A woman passenger was smuggled aboard shortly before the D-1230 took off. She is Mrs. Lilli Dillenz, a Viennese actress and daughter of the painter, Carl Holzner. No explanation was given of her presence aboard or whether she will complete the overseas trip.

Rolf Starke, a skilled pilot, also is aboard. Two sacks of mail, originally put aboard the Europa and Bremen for the United States, were taken on the D-1230.

Search Parties Fail To Find Mountaineer

Leadville, Colo., Oct. 4 (A.P.).—Two searching parties tonight had failed to find any trace of R. E. Mather, lost since Sunday when he set out in an attempt to scale Mount Elbert, one of the highest peaks of the Continental Divide.

Members of the searching parties, familiar with the district, expressed the belief that the missing man would be found under a snowdrift.

Builder of Airplanes Dies in Burning Aero

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 4 (A.P.).—W. A. Yackey, president of the Yackey Aircraft Corporation, was burned to death today when his airplane crashed from an altitude of 500 feet.

The burning plane fell near the Maywood Airfield where a wing dropped off.

ARMED GIRL FORCED HIM TO BE ROBBER, PRISONER ASSERTS

Cecil Wilson Surrenders, Admitting Virginia Bank Break.

TELLS HOW QUARTET ESCAPED FROM HILLS

Charges Betty Wilson Compelled Him, at Point of Gun, to Help in Robbery.

The mystery of how the four Mount Jackson bank bandits—two men and two women—escaped from a posse after hiding in the mountains of the Shenandoah Valley for four days and nights was cleared up last night by Cecil Wilson, 24 years old, who surrendered to the police here yesterday.

Wilson, one of the alleged bandits, said that he was forced into the robbery by Betty Wilson, one of the women, who pressed a revolver against his ribs and threatened to kill him if he "turned yellow." The girl is not related to Cecil.

In an interview last night with Justice of the Peace Arthur Stickley, of Woodstock, Va., Wilson revealed that he, the Wilson girl, and the other members of the band—Kirby Dellinger and Helen Blackwell—drove right down the myn street of Woodstock after escaping from the mountains, passed by the jail and the sheriff's house, and continued on to Washington.

Aided by Mountaineer. He also revealed, Stickley said, that Dellinger obtained the help of a man living in the mountains, and that this man provided the automobile in which the fugitives escaped.

The robbery of $2,000 from the bank in Mount Jackson, Va., about 12 miles from Woodstock, was committed the morning of July 25 last. The two men and two women left the city to carry it out. The posse which tracked the quartet in the Alleghany Mountains nearby was organized by Sheriff B. M. Bogen, in Woodstock, which is the county seat of Shenandoah County.

Wilson, who already was wanted in this city for embezzling funds from the Home Laundry, was driver of the automobile in which the bandits escaped. It was in the hope that he would escape punishment in Woodstock that he surrendered himself here yesterday to answer to the embezzlement charge.

Women Believed Here. Sheriff Borden, however, requested Justice of the Peace Stickley to use every means to have Wilson turned over to answer to the bank robbery charge. Although he did not actually hold up the bank, merely waiting in the automobile outside, he is charged jointly with the other three on the robbery charge.

The Woodstock authorities have heard that the two women and Dellinger are now in Canada, but there are some who believe that the women are here in Washington.

Wilson told Justice of the Peace Stickley that he had not received any of the $2,000 that was stolen from the bank. He told a narrowing tale of the four days and nights that he and his companions spent in the mountains.

After fleeing into the mountains, Wilson explained, the automobile ran

Sardine Trust Suit Won by Miss Connor

Portland, Me., Oct. 4 (A.P.).—A charge of the Government that 41 sardine packers controlling 90 per cent of the Maine pack have engaged in a combination and conspiracy in illegal restraint of trade in violation of the Sherman antitrust act, has been upheld by Judge John A. Peters in the United States District Court. He signed a decree today ordering dissolution of the Maine Cooperative Sardine Co., distributing agent for most of the Maine trade.

Miss Mary G. Connor, special assistant to the Attorney General in Washington, prosecuted the case. Miss Connor appeared for the Government in the Ward Baking Co. and other important cases.

AUTO KILLS SCHOOLBOY, THEN FLEES FROM SCENE

Marceytown Lad Hurl'd 10 Feet Into Air; His Neck Broken.

$100 REWARD IS OFFERED

Struck by a speeding hit-and-run automobile on the old Military road near his home at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, 14-year-old James Miller, of Marceytown, Va., was killed. His body was taken to Georgetown Hospital by Policeman Raymond Crank, of Arlington County. Physicians said the boy's neck had been broken.

Efforts of Arlington County police to locate the hit-and-run driver last night proved futile. They could not learn whether the driver was a man or a woman and were unable to obtain a description of the automobile.

James, who was the son of Harry Miller, of Marceytown, was on his way home from the Cherrylee School when he was killed. He was accompanied by Leroy Marcey, 14 years old. According to his companion the Miller boy was slightly in advance of him when they came to the road. James started across it, according to Leroy, and as he did so the automobile struck him and knocked him 10 feet into the air.

The driver increased his speed after the accident and disappeared. Coroner B. H. Swain, of Arlington County, delayed setting a date for an inquest until police complete their investigation.

The old Military road connects Cherrylee, Va., with Chain Bridge, Marceytown is on the Potomac River a short distance above Cherrylee.

The killing aroused residents of Arlington County, and last night Commonwealth's Attorney William C. Glott personally offered a reward of $100 for information leading to the arrest of the driver. He declared that at the coming meeting of the county supervisors he would ask that the reward be increased to $500.

PRESIDENT SWINGS
TO DEBT REDUCTION
INSTEAD OF TAX CUT

Considers Progress Made in Former Greatest Achievement of Administration.

HE WOULD FORESTALL
RAIDS ON TREASURY

Possible Decrease in Levies
Regarded Unlikely to Benefit
Small Taxpayers.

Possibility that the President is weakening in his tax reduction stand in favor of debt reduction was seen in his attitude yesterday. There was no intimation from the President himself that he has come to the belief that there should not be a tax slice of that it should be a very small one, but in his discussion of the importance of debt reduction at his biweekly press conference there was some cause for apprehension among the tax reductionists.

The President let it be known that he considers debt reduction the major accomplishment of his administration. The annual interest on the public debt, some $600,000,000 would be sufficient to pay for the entire cost of food control, he made known, in emphasis of the heavy load that it is on the taxpayer. Pointing out that the debt had been reduced $5,000,000,000 under his administration, it was explained that this was something that had been felt in every household in the country.

Debt reduction is not as likely to catch the public eye as tax reduction, it was pointed out, but is nevertheless of far more importance. The taxpayer benefited far more by this lowering of the national debt than he did by the tax slices which the Coolidge administration effected.

Reasons Behind Discussion.

The President was apparently prompted to discuss debt reduction because of the fact that senators and members of the House are now returning to the city and urging him to support their various dez, Octavio Almada, Jose Villa Arco, Attorney Octavio Gonzalez, Enrique Monteverde and former Gen. Carlos V. Ariza.

The revolt of the Torreón garrison, which was admitted yesterday by President Calles, proved a sanguinary affair. There was a short, sharp battle between the loyal troops and the rebel army officers and soldiers, which ended in victory for the government.

All Officers Shot.

Lieut. Col. Augusto Manzanilla, in command of the Sixteenth battalion of the Torreón garrison, and all the officers of his staff were executed. The mutineers in the rank and file were dispersed. On this affair an official bulletin stated:

"The sixteenth battalion garrisoning Torreón attempted to rise against the government, but was forced to submission by loyal troops, according to a report from Gen. Jose San Martin, military commander at Torreón. The uprising was crushed by force of arms and the mutineers dispersed after a combat."

Lieut. Col. Augusto Manzanilla and all the officers of the sixteenth battalion were executed after their connection in the attempted revolt had been established.

"The general situation in the Laguna district is satisfactory. Quiet prevails and adhesion to the government have been received."

"Gen. JOSE ALVAREZ,
"Chief of the Presidential Staff."

Will Bomb Rebels.

The government declares that the mutineers who deserted the Mexican City garrison numbered only 800. Federal aircraft located them near Texcoco this morning, whereupon 2,500 federal troops were dispatched to that place from Mexico City to give battle. Federal airplanes meanwhile were preparing to bomb the rebels out of their positions.

President Calles is personally directing the military campaign from Chihuahua.

pet projects. Some of these projects, the President let it be known are meritorious and others are not, but it was made clear that they militate against the reduction of the national debt.

By some, the President's attitude was interpreted simply as a warning against any attempts to "raid the Treasury." But by others, it was considered that the warning, if it was such, was coupled with debt reduction and not tax reduction.

This taken with the fact that Secretary Mellon is known to be a debt reductionist first and a tax reductionist second, caused some observers to entertain the thought that perhaps the President is coming around to the view that more good could be done by applying future surpluses to debt reduction.

Smoot Alters Stand.

Those who have studied the estimated surpluses for the current year and next year, as made known by Budget Director Clegg, have since found it difficult to see whether any great tax reduction can be effected at the coming session, even after allowing for the budget director's estimate.

Senator Smoot of Utah, credited with being one of the foremost financial experts in the Senate, who first predicted a $60,000,000 surplus, has since said that perhaps there should not be one at all.

Even if there is a reduction the small amount of taxpayable is not expected to benefit. In the first place, about $150,000,000 of the slice, it has been generally believed, would be applied to a reduction of corporate taxes and not to the reduction of the tax on the consumer it will not be recognizable.

Tax reduction optimists have based their greatest hopes on the fact that next year is a campaign year. But those who saw in the President's remarks yesterday a leaning toward debt reduction pointed out that it might be a case of paying the debt for the thought that more general good would come from debt reduction.

CLING TO COOLIDGE CANDIDACY

State over Smith. It is generally believed it aroused little enthusiasm among those who see far into the future. Mr. Hillis himself is understood to believe that the President would stand a much better chance of carrying the State than Hughes.

There was considerable discussion yesterday of Mr. Hughes among the rank and file of the committeemen and so far as they are concerned, there was quite a bit of warmth for him. So far as that inner group surrounding Senator Burges, Hughes is understood to have been placed under careful scrutiny and laid aside for the time being at least. Certainly all of the group is not agreed on him as a second choice.

The former Secretary of State undoubtedly will have the New York delegation and perhaps that of Pennsylvania. But both of them will be ready to jump to Coolidge when the "drafting" movement begins.

The Vane election case came in for some discussion, as the wonder was expressed as to what Vane will do with his Philadelphia contingent if Secretary Mellon and Senator Dave Reed do not succeed in seating him. There might be a question then, it is pointed out, as to whether the Treasury Secretary would have the entire State delegation, although all Pennsylvania factions are now united.

Senator Butler announced at his conference with newspaper men that no subcommittee will be appointed to take up the question of a convention city. Rather the full committee will meet here December 6 to hear a big Detroit and Cleveland seem to be getting the most attention in the informal discussion now, despite the activity of William H. Crocker, of San Francisco.

Group in Minority.

As pointed out before, this group is in the minority by far at the gathering. But it is composed of men who get votes outside of their respective States.

Most certainly their tactics will not do Hoover, Lowden or Dawes or any one else who is being prominently mentioned any good, it is pointed out, and it is conceivable that a condition might be brought about if the group goes far with its plan that would enable the President to amplify his statement in fairness to the others.

As an example of how the attitude of this group works against the others, one leader is known to be telling those delegates over whom he has an influence to sit steady in the boat and come on to the convention and see what they can do. It is pointed out that if they do that it is poor consolation for the others in their preconvention activity.

All of the committeemen in attendance at the gathering are to be the breakfast guests of the President this morning. No significance should be attached to this, it is insisted. No one looks for the President to discuss his announcement. The "draft" group hopes to goodness he does not.

In so far as Senator Butler is concerned, he is personally for Mr. Coolidge and his attitude is based on that personal consideration.

Those who are sharing his thought that the President must be drafted are looking at it in the light of practical politics. They are concerned about the New York situation and Mr. Coolidge is the only one whom they are convinced could handle it.

Hughes Is Discussed.

Charles D. Hillis, the committeeman from that State, brought down the name of former Secretary of State Hughes as the man who can carry the putepac Castle, where Secretary of War Amaro and Gen. Alvarez, chief of the presidential staff, together with the highest army officers, are his active aids.

Congressman Soto y Gama, the agrarian leader, has issued a statement that thousands of armed agrarians throughout the republic are ready to take the field on the side of the government against the rebels. The President has declared that he will not move out of the towns and villages in the federal district declaring their loyalty.

Gomez Believed Surrounded.

New York, Oct. 4 (A.P.).—Consul General Arturo M. Elias, representing Mexico in New York, tonight received word from Mexico that federal troops have surrounded Perote, where Gen. Arnulfo Gomez, presidential candidate was believed to be hiding and that capture of the town was expected in a few hours.

Gomez, with Gen. Francisco Serrano, led the Mexican revolution. The capture and execution of Serrano was announced from Mexico City.

The consul general's advice also included information that the governor and local deputies of Chihuahua had been executed after joining the revolt.

Battle on at Texcoco.

El Paso, Tex., Oct. 4 (A.P.).—Economic as well as military measures are being taken by the Calles government of Mexico against those involved in the military revolt that broke in Mexico City Sunday night, with rebel manifestations in other parts of the republic.

Advices received here today said Mexican telegraph lines were carrying orders issued by the federal judicial department to its agents in various sections of the country to confiscate rebel property.

The judicial department was said to be acting under the law that makes the property of rebels revert to the government, to be sold to raise money for defense against the rebels.

Vito Alessio Robles, prominent member of the anticlericalist party, was arrested today at his home in Mexico City, dispatches said, and headquarters of the party have been abandoned.

A battle was reported taking place at Texcoco, but no details have been received. Traffic between Mexico City and Puebla has been suspended because of the blowing up of a bridge at Ixtla. All trains were reported as running on schedule with the exception of the Interoceanic Railway, which is being held open for military trains moving toward Mexico. All roads to Puebla, Huachata and Cuernavaca are guarded by military forces and all vehicles are being searched.

Gomez's Nephew Revolts.

Tampico, Mex., Oct. 4 (A.P.).—Jesus Gomez Viscarra, nephew of Gen. Arnulfo Gomez, has revolted at Las Julias, near Xicocotlan, according to official advice given out by headquarters of the chief of military operations in Tamaulipas, state tonight.

Gomez Viscarra, with only a few followers, is reported to be marching on Santa Cruz ranch.

Censorship Is Severe.

Nogales, Ariz., Oct. 4 (A.P.).—The censorship being applied to news of the revolt along the border is the strictest in years.

Rebels are returning to Mexico City in droves to throw themselves on the mercy of the government, said Gen. Alvaro Obregon, former president and now commander in chief of the army, in a conversation from Mexico City to Nogales, Sonora, late today.

Rebels are returning to Mexico City in droves to throw themselves on the mercy of the government, said Gen. Alvaro Obregon, former president and now commander in chief of the army, in a conversation from Mexico City to Nogales, Sonora, late today.

Unconfirmed reports today to the Herald told of trouble in the southern portion of the state of Sinaloa, Mexico, and of a bandit attack at Laquema, state of Sinaloa, late today.

The trouble in Sinaloa was said to have been the outgrowth of political agitation over the race for the presidency.

Vera Cruz, Mexico, Oct. 4 (A.P.).—The government of the state of Vera Cruz, which usually has its seat in Mexico City, will be transferred to this port. The situation here, both militarily and politically, is quiet.

Nineteen rebels were killed and twenty wounded in two hours of fierce fighting in Jalisco, semi-official dispatches received here today reported.

Reports to the Nogales Herald today said that police of Mexico City yesterday took into custody 29 socially prominent citizens, among them twelve women, on charges of being implicated in the revolt movement there.

DISASTROUS RESULTS OF THEIR FAILURE

700 Leading Railroad Men
Attend Annual Session of Their Association.

Wire and radio communication are indispensable to the progress and prosperity of this country, because without them our great transportation systems would be paralyzed and the Nation's industries wholly demoralized, R. H. Aishton, president of the American Railway Association, declared yesterday at the opening session of the telegraph and telephone section of the association at the Willard Hotel.

More than 700 delegates, representing virtually every large railroad in the United States, Canada and Mexico, are attending the convention, which will remain in session until tomorrow.

Welcomed by Ladue.

Col. William B. Ladue, Engineer Commissioner, welcomed the delegates to this city yesterday morning. He stressed the importance of radio and wire communication to the railroad industry because of business at the District Building.

Declaring that one can not conceive of the disastrous results if by the stroke of the hand the telegraph, the telephone and the radio were wiped out of existence, Mr. Aishton pointed out that three-fourths of the world's telephone and telegraph equipment is in the United States. In addition, he said, the United States now leads the world in the use of the radio. He stressed the need for cooperation and intensive research necessary for the successful operation of great communication systems.

Program for Today.

Secretary of the Navy Curtis D. Wilbur will be the principal speaker at a banquet for the delegates at the Willard tonight at 7 o'clock. Dr. H. C. Frankfield, senior meteorologist of the U. S. Weather Bureau, will be the principal speaker at the business session of the convention this morning.

Rear Admiral W. H. G. Bullard, chairman of the Federal Radio Commission, will address the convention tomorrow. J. A. Jones, of this city, general superintendent of telegraph of the Southern Railway system and chairman of the telegraph and telephone section, is presiding at the convention.

Hurley Ship Project
Interests Coolidge

President Coolidge believes that the proposal of Edward N. Hurley, former chairman of the United States Shipping Board, that the railroads be permitted to own transoceanic shipping companies might prove highly desirable, he told callers at the White House yesterday.

The President has made no study of the proposal but as he has heard it discussed and understands that there is a difference of opinion as to whether the railroads have the legal authority to own transoceanic shipping lines. Some say that they have such authority, but the President believes most of the railroad managers who are charged with the risk of running the business are inclined to think otherwise.

Negro Vote Pleas
Filed in Washington

(Associated Press.)

Investigation into complaints that negroes are not allowed to participate in elections in Kentucky is under consideration by the Department of Justice. Formal complaint was yesterday filed before department officials by Charles G. Middleton, chairman of the Louisville Republican city and county executive committee, and William M. Bullitt, of Louisville, who was solicitor general in the Taft administration.

They told the officials that negroes are being intimidated and kept away from the polls by Democrats and that such conditions particularly prevail in Louisville. Justice Department officials

22 Years in Wedlock

President and Mrs. Coolidge celebrated their twenty-second wedding anniversary quietly yesterday.

PREMIER

This is the No. 2 for average homes. With Copper Tank $225

SAVINGS IN WATER HEATERS!

SOME home owners want "the best" of everything. They have learned from experience that the surest way of getting a bargain is to pay the price of the finest quality. For them, the Crane Premier Gas Water Heater is made. Automatic and insulated, it stores piping hot water for instant use. No boiler running downstairs to light it. No waiting while water heats. No gas wasted. Yet full pressure at every hot water faucet. A dependable and economical hot water service, insured by brilliant design, finest materials and good workmanship in every detail. Certified by the Crane name and reputation.

FOR those who want a good hot water heater at a lower price, we recommend the Crane Keystone. Now it sells for only $90, just reduced from $90; a clear saving of $20 made possible by the greatly increased popularity of this heater. In every respect, it resembles the higher priced Premier, except that its materials are slightly different, and its finish less expensive. Like the Premier it runs itself and has no coils to "lime up." It stores hot water for instant use in its insulated tank, made like a giant "Thermos" bottle to keep in all the heat. We believe the Crane Keystone is today's greatest value at its price.

A water heater is bought for many years of service. So it pays to investigate thoroughly.

Women love it

As an astringent

So many women have proved the value of Listerine as an astringent that we are glad to pass the good word along.

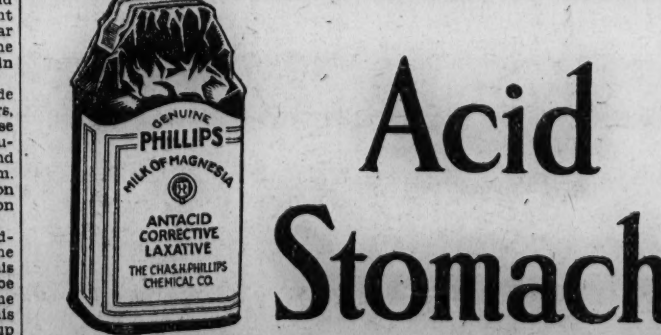

The cost of Listerine compared to most astringents is very low, yet in effectiveness you would go a long way before finding its equal, especially for oily skins. Gently it contracts open pores, tightens sagging muscles, and leaves the face with a delightful sense of coolness.

If for no other reason than its stimulating effect upon the skin, you will be delighted with Listerine. And then remember how much it saves you!

Perhaps you'd be interested in receiving our handy little free book of etiquette. Just write for it to the Lambert Pharmacal Company, Dept. L-7, 2101 Locust Street, St. Louis, Mo.

Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips' Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

Better Than Soda

For fifty years genuine "Phillips' Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as an antacid solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. Besides, it neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges this souring waste from the system without purging. It is far more pleasant to take than soda.

Try a 25c Bottle

Insist upon "Phillips." Twenty-five cent and fifty cent bottles, are drugstore. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

FOR WINNERS OF

The Elephant Puzzle Contest

THE PROBLEM

The sum total of the figures on each of the four elephants pictured herewith are all different, with the exception of two of the elephants. These two elephants weigh identically the same and they are twins. You can find them by adding up the figures on each of the elephants and the two with the same sum total are the twins.

The figures "1" to "4" in the circles in the upper left-hand corners of the elephants are simply to identify them. These figures have nothing to do with the elephants' weight. In submitting your solution, you must give the proper classification to win must give the correct weight of each twin as well as to correctly identify them by their numbers. This is a game of skill and not a guessing contest. There are no "ones" or "twos" in the elephants. There are no groups of figures—that is, the figure 9 is the highest figure shown. There are no "23's," "35's," "47's" or like groups. If you find a "23" and a "35" are written so closely together that it looks like a "58," it means that the "23" and "35" are to be added just as you would if they were an inch apart. There are no figures in the pictures except in the bodies of the elephants. The tops of the sides are distinctly curved, and the bottom of the sides are straight or nearly so. There is no trick or illusion in the charts.

GENERAL RULES OF CONTEST

This contest is open to residents of the District of Columbia and the States of Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia. No one directly or indirectly associated with The Washington Post or members of their families will be allowed to participate in this contest.

Contestants may submit as many different solutions as they desire provided a payment of one of the amounts designated in the list of awards shall accompany each solution, but no contestant will be permitted to win more than one award. Once registered a solution can not be changed.

The Washington Post offers these awards for individual efforts. While it is proper for members of one household to work together, or several friends, it is not permissible for more than one of these working in union to send a solution of the puzzle. When in the judgment of the Contest Manager more than one member of the same family, or more than one of any number of persons he believes have worked together, send in a solution of the puzzle, the right is reserved to refund the amount of money paid for submissions and return the solutions he believes have been submitted contrary to the rules. The Washington Post reserves the right to reject any solution which it deems to be a copy of another solution or a solution which may have been submitted under proper conditions. The Washington Post also reserves the right to finally decide any other questions or points which may arise and those entering the contest agree to abide by such decisions.

In case of ties, as many awards will be reserved as there are people tied, before any awards are awarded for a less correct solution; that is, if three or more people should tie on the best solution, the first three or more awards will be reserved for them, and they will be awarded in order of the standing of their solutions of the second puzzle. That is, the best solution will be awarded the first award; the next best, the second, and the third best the third award, etc.

DECIDING TIES—IF ANY

In case of ties those tied for any award will be presented with a second puzzle, which will consist of drawing a line across the face of a chart of figures like the accompanying chart, only larger, so that the figures thus connected when added together will total the greatest sum. If necessary this chart will be used five times, after which, should no ties remain, each contestant will receive full value of any award tied for.

In case there are no ties on counting elephants no other puzzle, of course, will be presented.

Important Facts to Remember

While the amount you pay with a solution of the puzzle does not have any effect on your winning an award, it does affect the amount you will receive should you win, as the value of these awards is determined by what the winners submit in subscription money. This is explained in the award list, which you should study carefully before sending in your solution.

The time a solution is received has no bearing upon its winning an award. Accuracy is what counts.

Not more than one award will be awarded to any one person.

WORLD SERIES OPENER TO BE BROADCAST TODAY

McNamee and Carlin Are to Describe Game at Pittsburgh for WRC.

WHITE ON WMAL HOOK-UP

A program varied enough to suit the taste of every listener is offered by WRC today. The first game of the world series, which probably holds more interest than any other feature, will be put on the air from Forbes Field, Pittsburgh, at 1 o'clock. The station will begin broadcasting 15 minutes earlier, however, with Graham McNamee and Phillips Carlin on the job. Thirty-two stations and the Pacific Coast network will put these games on the air.

The second game, Thursday, will be held in Pittsburgh. The third, fourth and fifth games will be held in New York. The sixth game, if necessary, will be held in Pittsburgh.

For the first time in its history, WRC tonight will broadcast a description of a local fight. John Black, sportman of this city is promoting tonight's boxing contest between Gallagher and Lamar. The fight will be held in the armory at Silver Spring, Md. WRC broadcasting by the main bout, which begins about 10:30 o'clock. John B. Daniel, local announcer, will describe the fight.

The "Aeolian Recital," which will be broadcast from WRC at 8 o'clock tonight, will be a recital of the night feature from the station during the winter months. The opening recital, which will be one hour in length, will feature Randolph Gantz, celebrated pianist, and will also mark the first New York appearance of the Philadelphia Chamber String Symphonies, which is now in its third season. The Duo-Art piano and Aeolian residence organ will also be heard.

Beginning tonight at 9:30 o'clock WRC will broadcast the programs by the Silver Spring Cord Orchestra and the Silver Masked Troupe. This has been a New York feature for some time, but will be heard from WRC for the first time.

A series of talks for home makers will begin from WRC at 11 o'clock this morning and will be a regular feature each Wednesday and Friday morning.

WMAL also will broadcast the world series games, through the Columbia Broadcast System hook-up, beginning at 1:15 o'clock today. Maj. J. Andrew White will be the announcer.

The second of the series of "Brunswick Pannatone" sponsored by the Washington Brunswick dealers, will be broadcast from 7:30 to 8:30 o'clock tonight.

The opening musicale from the lounge of the City Club, presenting the "City Club Revue," will be put on the air at 8:30 o'clock.

Woodward & Lothrop

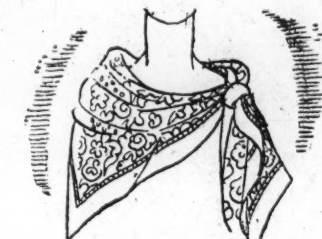

10th, 11th, F and G Streets

From Liberty's
—London

JUST the mention of "Liberty's" evokes to the imagination a collection of mellow gorgeousness from all corners of the globe. Gay things from China, soft, beautiful stuffs from India—from everywhere—and here in Washington exclusively at Woodward & Lothrop there are gathered some of the loveliest and most unusual offerings of "Liberty's."

A checked and dotted necktie of soft shades with matching handkerchief to echo the color from one's pocket, $6. Or perhaps one would prefer the matching tie and handkerchief in one of the plain silks, $5.

One of the smartest new fashions is a Liberty scarf, slipped through a Liberty ring. The rings are of real amber, at $5, $9 and $9.50, and the scarfs, which are often square and always colorful, may be of silk crepe or georgette, from $2.75 to $45. Cut chenille scarf (sketched), $38.50. Large Liberty shawls with fringe, some Paisley, others with colors marvelously blended, $45 and $100.

"Who will buy, who will buy sweet lavender?"—almost every one who has a well-appointed home and who loves the quaint charm that Liberty's Sweet Lavender and pot pourri lends the linen closet. $1. Each New Year is greeted by scores of calendars, but none more attractive than the Liberty calendars with a print and an Old English greeting. 50c and 75c.

The Far East has given Kashmir embroideries to put "Liberty's" in the homes of the "land of the free." Bizarre bedspreads, $25 to $85; scarfs, $6 to $12, and pillow covers, $5 to $9. Silk pillow covers, too, $7 to $12.50, and India print bedspreads, $8 to $15.

A jolly little doll to make some corner amusing—or to amuse some little girl—dressed in a gay Liberty costume, $3.25 to $7.50. A tiny mirror for the guest room, exploiting Liberty's lovely silk on its small back, $2.

A sewing box from Liberty's would be both useful and decorative. Scissors, thimble, tape measure, needles, thread, pins, and plenty of space for one's work are found in this silk-covered box. $12. Other boxes are covered with Liberty silk. Jewel boxes, $2 and $2.25; vanity cases, $1.75; needle cases, 75c, or filled, $1. And, most attractive in the Liberty collection are the Liberty Fabrics—world-known for their beauty, their unusual design, their lovely coloring; one sees sheerest voiles patterned in varied colors—silk stripes adding a graceful note; voiles in rich all-over designs—and silks equally suitable for novelty gift things, as well as frocks.

A New Instrument... at a new low price!

The AMPICO SYMPHONIQUE! Two instruments in one: an exquisite Baby Grand piano, plus the superb Ampico reproducing action—and both for the price of a fine baby grand alone! In all musical history never such an opportunity!

AMPICO SYMPHONIQUE

For your own playing or for your children's lessons, the AMPICO SYMPHONIQUE provides a Baby Grand of great distinction. Rich and mellow in tone, it is beautifully fashioned of satin-brown mahogany, inlaid with delicately contrasting woods. As a baby grand alone it offers unusual value. Yet, to its fortunate owner, the AMPICO SYMPHONIQUE brings enjoyment far beyond that of a regular baby grand, for concealed in its depths is the marvelous Ampico action. The world's great music played by the master-pianists. Every tone, every shading, every subtle touch of genius is re-created for the delight of your guests. For your children it is a veritable school of music. And at your dances—irresistible melodies.

All in all, the Ampico belongs in your home—and the new AMPICO SYMPHONIQUE can place it there. It costs nearly $500 less than any Ampico Grand ever offered before. And the price includes a monthly recording service...

OUR PAYMENT PLAN
You may have the AMPICO SYMPHONIQUE delivered for a sum so moderate that it can easily be met out of current funds. The terms are convenient—two whole years to pay, if you wish. Your present piano accepted in exchange.

Our monthly budget plan makes its purchase easy. Stop in and examine this remarkable new instrument today!

The Homemaker

Nancy Carey

I WISH, Mrs. Mahla, that you had happened to add to your note whether or not you used an electric waffle iron or the other sort, and to suggest to me the ingredients of your waffle recipe. Having a knowledge of the tools simplifies suggesting a remedy for difficulties in workmanship, but since we have not these facts it must suffice that I tell you that waffles are hard to keep crisp if allowed to stand and that, should they not be cooked quite long enough they will soften almost immediately, and, too, they may be made of too thin a batter. One of these days, not today, but very soon we shall have a waffle recipe. In the meantime, there is no manner in which you can make, rather, cook, the waffles just as they are needed? This business of cooking the waffles as they are used seems to me to be the big pleasure connected with an electric waffle iron.

As for your omelet, we place the pan on the fire, and when it is hot put about a half tablespoonful of butter in either side of the pan. The eggs will have been beaten very stiff and salt and pepper added to them. Turn a part of the egg mixture into each side of the omelet pan and cook for about two minutes. Then, dexterously, lift the omelet by the handle of the pan, turn one side of the pan over the other. Cook for two minutes, first on one side and then on the other, and serve at once.

In making other than plain omelet, for instance, a ham or Spanish or mushroom omelet, make ready the materials to be added and place a part of the mixture over the top of one side of the omelet in the pan and reserve the other half of the mixture to turn over the omelet when it is on the heated plate. There are many sorts of omelets that are suitable to serve at a luncheon, or even for a supper if it is to be the sort of supper we sometimes plan for a Saturday or Sunday evening.

We have gathered together recipes for several such omelets and we shall be delighted to send the list to any one wishing them. In the collection we have kidney omelet, cheese omelet, mushroom omelet, Spanish omelet, crab omelet, chicken liver omelet, chicken and tomato omelet and vegetable omelet. They sound good, do they not?

Now for our menu for today. It has of late been conspicuous for its absence.

MENU.
Lamb Chops
Baked Potatoes
Creamed Onions
Graham Muffins
Beets Stuffed with String Beans with Mayonnaise
Roquefort Cheese Crackers
Coffee

Graham Muffins.
1½ cupfuls graham flour
1 cupful white flour
¾ teaspoonful salt
¾ teaspoonful soda
Mix and sift these dry materials and add:

One-third cupful molasses to 1 cupful sour milk, and then add to first mixture. Add 2 tablespoonfuls melted butter and mix well. Bake in gem pans in a moderate oven for from 15 to 20 minutes.

Stuffed Beet
(From Mrs. Sale, Washington, D. C.)
Prepare and cook medium-size new beets in the usual manner. Rub off the skin and remove centers, leaving a wall a half-inch thick. Cut a slice from the root and end that the beets may stand level. Marinate with French dressing and set aside in a cool place. Remove the tips and strings from string beans and cook until tender with a bit of ham or strip of bacon. Drain, chill and cut diagonally across in half-inch diamonds. Mix with half their measure of thinly sliced small green onions and the pulp removed from the center of the beets. Moisten all with cooked salad dressing and fill the chilled beets. Arrange on crisp lettuce leaves and top with mayonnaise (or the cooked dressing) garnished with paprika. We shall be delighted to send the dressing recipe to any one wishing it. In the collection

Mr. Work's Pointer On Auction Bridge

The pointer for today is:

AT A LOVE SCORE, DO NOT TAKE OUT PARTNER'S NO TRUMP WITH MINOR SUIT STRENGTH UNLESS THE HAND IS STRONG ENOUGH TO BID THREE.

This week we are considering twenty hands, all supposed to be held by North, the bidding having been South (Dealer) one No Trump, West pass. Today's four hands are:

NO. 5

No. 5. North should pass. The hand has such material help for a No Trump that game is almost assured; game at Clubs is not so probable. A bid of two Clubs would show weakness and the hand is not strong enough to justify a bid of three. With any score toward game, two Clubs should be bid; a score makes a Minor as good a game producer as a Major is at love. With a score, a Minor bid of two over partner's No Trump shows strength, not weakness.

No. 6. Three Clubs. With such great length and strength in Clubs and the Ace of Hearts to help, the menace of a worthless singleton makes it advisable to bid three Clubs and give the No Trump the option between Clubs and

No. 7. Pass. Tempting to bid Diamonds because of the honor score, but game at Diamonds is unlikely and at No Trump quite possible. A No Trump game may be expected if the partner has the Ace and another Diamond—which is probable. It is a case of game rather than honor score.

No. 8. Three Diamonds: a conservative bid which can not work badly. The chances favor game at either Diamonds or No Trump although there is a possibility that at No Trump the adversaries might save the game by running Clubs. This possibility is avoided by bidding Diamonds because the No Trump will let the Diamonds stand, unless he has the other suits protected and if he has, his return to No Trump insures game.

The four hands which will be considered tomorrow are:

How Many Can You Answer?

Each question counts ten. If you answer eight correctly your intelligence rating is 80 per cent. Actual tests reveal that eight out of ten correct is college standard; six out of ten correct is high school standard; four out of ten correct is grammar school standard. Less than four correct is uneducated standard.

1. How many feet are there to a rod?
2. What were the names of the two crafts which waged the first battle between ironclads in modern times?
3. In what city of India was the notorious Black Hole?
4. Was it Socrates, Diogenes, Aristotle, or Plato who was most interested in scientific laws?
5. Who wrote In Memoriam and Locksley Hall poems?
6. What kind of snake is supposed to have killed Cleopatra?
7. Hoosiers are citizens of what State?
8. Who made the famous "Cross of Gold" speech?
9. Which New England poetess, recently dead, wrote a notable life of Keats?
10. Who conquered Peru for the Spaniards?

MODISH MITZI

"There are few things more important than a hat, Dora," says Mitzi in discussing her friend's new outfit. Dora has begged Mitzi to guide her to becoming millinery. Mitzi wears a turban with a large chow of velvet on the side. Dora considers the hat with the high pointed crown.

"Now if you want to be different"—and, of course, Mitzi does—"there's this hat with the side flare." Dora, by the way, has forgotten what she came for. Mitzi has never found so many hats that she liked gathered together in one shop.

Mitzi Shops for Dora

"Dora," says Mitzi hurriedly if not apologetically, "a slight brim is more becoming to you." This may be the way she is saving her conscience for buying the helmet hat with the black flange—even before Dora has had an opportunity to try it on.

YOUR BOY AND YOUR GIRL

By ARTHUR DEAN, SO. D.
The Parent Counsellor

Dr. Dean will answer all signed letters pertaining to parents' problems with their boys and girls. Writers' names are never printed. Only questions of general interest answered in this column. All letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Address Arthur Dean, in care of this paper.

ARE YOU BEAUTIFUL?

Well, girls, today you have the department all to yourselves. Let's talk about beauty. Beauty is something that interests all of us and very properly so. Every one is born with a love for the beautiful.

I am going to give you a test today—one that you will enjoy trying on yourselves. No boys need apply, but mothers are welcome. Perhaps we will do something for the boys later. This test is only limited to physical beauty. Beauty of character, beauty of mind and soul are kinds of beauty for which every girl should strive and we will talk about them later. They are quite as important as beauty of face and form. Many people think they are even more important.

Have you ever asked yourselves, girls, just what physical beauty is? Is it a question of perfection of features and form only? Does expression, animation, good spirits enter into it? Which scores the highest—blondes, brunettes or the betwixts and between? Are the winners bobbed-haired, long-haired, curly, ringed, straight or marcelled? Which mouth is the winner—the cupid's bow, the generous, broad-gauged mouth or the painted one?

Well, these are all factors that enter into beauty of course and we may some day talk about them. Meantime you decide those things for yourselves. But I ask you to do it thoughtfully and wisely.

I am indebted for the test of physical beauty which follows to Miss Mary E. Preston, State Teachers College, San Francisco, Calif., and the American Child Health Association. Answer the questions that apply to you with a "Yes" or a "No." Then send your test to me being sure to include a stamped, addressed envelope for my reply. I will grade your answer and give you some valuable suggestions that apply to you personally. I am going to help you to understand and acquire true beauty. Write plainly and address your letter to Dr. Arthur Dean, care of The Washington Post.

BEAUTY AND YOU

By VIOLA PARIS

FOR DEVELOPING THIN LEGS

DEAR Viola Paris: My legs are very thin from the knee up; how can I fatten them? I am 5 feet 4 inches tall and rather small boned. I am nearly 17 years old. Shouldn't I weigh about 120 pounds? I weigh only 100 pounds. Is thinness hereditary? I eat heartily and do not do any strenuous work. Would it help me to go on a milk and egg diet? BETTY SAM M.

Answer: Yes, about 120 pounds would be a good weight for you. The fact that your frame is slight may be hereditary, but the amount of flesh you have over your bones can be pretty well controlled by yourself. Besides gaining weight, you will want the new flesh to be solid and healthy. Three things are absolutely necessary if you want to gain 20 pounds. 1. Plenty of rest. 2. The right sort of food. 3. Much outdoor exercise. Nine hours sleep each night should be had, and it is an excellent plan to lie down for a least half an hour in the afternoon. All kinds of exercises should be performed for this wonderful leveler plants firm, muscular flesh, as well as reducing flabby parts. Your diet should consist of fresh fruits, fresh vegetables, whole wheat breads and cereals, r-h milk, cream, soups, butter, cheese and a small quantity of meat and fish and eggs. Do not mistake rich foods for nourishing foods—articles such as pastry, candy and fancy sauces. You should drink a quart of milk a day, and it should be sipped slowly. The combination of healthful food, plenty of rest and invigorating air and exercise will, I think, help you to gain the desired weight. Remember, however, that a girl in her teens need have no undue worries about her weight, for often, as she grows older, her weight, which has refused to respond to ordinary methods, naturally adjusts itself.

A. C.: My first answer applies to your question about gaining weight. For reducing the stomach, the following exercises for ten minutes twice a day while lying on the back:

1. Keeping both feet together and without bending the knees, raise the legs as high as possible. Then lower them within 2 inches from the floor, and repeat in this way a number of times. Take care to keep the shoulders flat on the floor and not to push with the hands.

2. Flex the knees, bring them up to the chest, then kick out sharply. Do this about 10 times in each direction, and each one separately.

3. Make the motions of pedalling a bicycle—50 times in each direction. (Copyright, 1927.)

THE crepe de chine frock for the young girl is one of the most useful models in the wardrobe. It is appropriate for the children's matinee, delightful for school activities, and just the frock for any number of occasions that arise about the ordinary daytime routine. Two tones of crepe de chine are used in this one-piece model, which has fullness below the shaped yoke in front and back and an inserted skirt band joined with hemstitching. Designed for sizes 8, 10, 12 and 14.

The Right Kind of Wrappers

GOOD taste extends into the boudoir beyond the reach of the public eye. Here are sketched two young girls, both eminently correct in their special surroundings. The girl on the left is no longer at college; she is wearing a dainty simple negligee that is suitable and charming at home or visiting. It is made of crepe satin and has its trimming a shirred band that forms the finish of the neck and hem alike. The sleeves most nearly resemble a Medici sleeve. They reach to just above the elbow and are also trimmed with a band of shirring that makes one circular detour just above the elbow—the same motif is repeated on the pocket. A soft bow at the hip eliminates the necessity of forever holding one's self together, a fault that is inevitably a part of the "wrap-around" system. This wrapper, while charming, as has been said, at home or visiting, would be out of place entirely at boarding school or college.

The girl on the right, however, is wearing a wrapper designed especially for the school or college girl. It is made of a soft yellow flannel—a material that lends itself well to this mannishly cut bathrobe. It is double-breasted, with a notched collar, and has three patch pockets and a tie belt. This is also an excellent type of bathrobe for traveling. It is easily washed and equally easily packed.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

AT THE AFTERNOON TEA.
The man was straight and tall and true,
The woman fair to see.
They met as people often do,
At what is termed a "tea."

Now teas are dreadful bores at best,
As countless people say,
They're functions most of us detest,
But dare not put away.

'Tis truth to tell the maiden stood
And he was there because he could
Not gracefully decline.
And muttering at the tedious fate
Which forced him out to tea,
The handsome man so tall and straight,
Met her so fair to see.

She brought to him a cup of tea,
Likewise a bit of cake,
And hurried back to learn if he
Another cup would take.

"I saw, sir," unto him she said,
The handsome fellow hung his head,
Her beauty had him dazed.

"It must be nice," said he, "to reign
And pour out such a tea."
The sharp talk here," she smiled again,
Is deadly dull to me.

"I'm bored to death by such affairs
They all seem so absurd
In spite of people's breezy airs,
Only the tea is stirred."

"Then will you be my darling bride,
And name the day," said he,
"Of course I will," the maid replied,
"You suit me to a T."

Many Individual Stocks Gain
Sharply in Heaviest Turnover of 18 Months.

NEW PEAKS ARE SCORED

Special to The Washington Post.

New York, Oct. 4.—Today's session of the stock market was the most active since March 26, 1926, when the big spring reaction was at its height. At times the rush to trade created a near-panic speculation on the floor of the exchange and the ticker was frequently behind the market from 10 to 20 minutes. The day's turnover topped $1,000,000.

Despite the sustained rush to sell and buy, quotations at the close showed that losses and gains were not so large as in numerous previous sessions. The market was decidedly irregular in character, with most of the leading issues losing ground, recessions extending to about five points. On the other hand, many individual issues throughout the list advanced sharply, some appreciations extending to more than eight points net. The market was very nervous at the finish.

Prices were generally higher at the opening and the market was very active. Tremendous rush to buy in practically all divisions of the list. Prices continued to advance until about midday when the excitement subsided for a time. Then, with a rise in the call money rate to 4 1/2 per cent and higher rates on new maturities in time money, advantage was taken of the overbought condition of the stock market by the bears, who made a strenuous effort to bring about a break. Leading issues of all classes, and especially General Motors, were dumped on the market. In large blocks, and many of them lost their early gains and some of them considerably more. Strong interests brought about a temporary rally, but another flood of selling drove the bulls to cover, and the market closed with minus signs well in the majority.

In the first hour another long list of new high prices was established. Among the more prominent issues which sold at new peaks for this year or longer were General Motors, old and new, Baltimore Telephone, Packard, Ohio, Chesapeake Corporation, Louisville & Nashville, New York Central, National American, Union Pacific, American Telephone & Telegraph, Packard, Pennsylvania and Du Pont.

General Motors, old, quit the day a loser by 4 1/2 points, and the new lost 1 1/2. United States Steel advanced 2 1/2. American Smelting and Refining, 3 1/2; Atchafalca, 2 1/2; Bethlehem Steel, 2 1/2; Houston Oil, 3 1/2; General Railway Signal, 4 1/2; Cabot Corporation, 2 1/2; National Harvester and Nickel Plate, 3 1/2; Delaware and Hudson and Commercial Solvents, 4 1/2; Canadian Pacific, 5; Old Dominion, 4 1/2; Chesapeake and Ohio, 4 1/2; West Virginia, 4 1/2; United Drug, 4 1/2; and Nash Motors, 1 1/2.

The reverse side of the picture showed United States Tobacco up 6 points net at the close; American Life, 3; Beecham Packing, 2 1/2; Mobile and Northern, 1 1/2; Detroit and Mackinac, 5; Cushman, 4 1/2; Collins and Alkan, 1 1/2; Case Threshing, 6; Burroughs Adding Machine, 4 1/2; Ingersoll Rand, 2; McCrory, 3 1/2; Midland Steel Products, preferred, 8 1/2; National City Bank, 6; Phillips Morris, 2; Phoenix Machinery, 2 1/2; Pullman, 2 1/2; Railroad, preferred, 5 1/2; and Western Union, 1 1/2. The turn over in the two classes of General Motors shares amounted to $700,000.

The rails, next to the premier automobile stocks, received the most attention in the early trading, and, for the most part, sold backward faster than the industrials when the bears got well into the saddle. Utilities and merchandise shares, on the other hand, gave ground very reluctantly.

Mack Trucks was persistently strong. The stock gave way little on the set-backs and moved forward in the afternoon. Rumors again are being heard of Mack among them the one concerning buying with General Motors. However, the General Motors rumor is said to be no more true now than it ever was.

Even those who are most bullish professed no little disappointment over the action of Steel common. That stock appears to meet constant offerings on all advances and slips off easily when demand subsides.

Passage of the measure intended to restrict production of sugar in Cuba for another year felt flat as a market factor.

Sterling reached $4.86 1/2, a new high for the year, on a big wave of purchasing. French francs advanced slightly, and Swedish and Norwegian kroner gained 2 points, but pesetas were in supply and yielded 8 points, but subsequently recovered 2 points of this.

BOND PRICES RESUME: SOME RENT SHARPLY

Continued Strength of Italian Issues Again Feature of Trading.

TREASURY 3½s ACTIVE

New York, Oct. 4 (A.P.).—After continuing their recent rise in the early trading, bond prices hesitated late today, and in many instances developed reaction tendencies.

Various issues, which had continued their march into new high territory, turned sharply around, however, hardening in the money market when banks called some $25,000,000 in loans. Trading was on a broad scale and volume sales reached the highest total in several weeks.

Strength of Italian issues was the outstanding feature. On buying attributed to important banking interest, the government 7½s and City of Milan 6½s advanced to 98½ and 92½ respectively, while Governmental 7½s and Rome 6½s gained strength from large buying orders. Belgian bonds also displayed a firm tone, particularly the 7½s, which sold at their best price of the year.

Chesapeake Corporation 5½s, which led the railway group into higher ground in the money market, were touched off, fell back later, and then recovered a fractional net loss. Erie refunding 5½s ended the day at yesterday's close, after reaching a while earlier by the railroad issues followed a similar trend. Unusual strength was evidenced by a few railway issues of low coupon rate, including Northern Pacific 4½s, and Pennsylvania 3½s, both of which attained new peaks.

International Telephone 4½s, moving up to 96, featured the utility group in which several other telephone and power issues invaded new maximum territory. Buying of pressed steel car 5½s, in anticipation of the lowest interest, advanced the price a point, but other industrials were rather quiet.

Treasury 3½s were active within a shade of their previous maximum, and an undercurrent of strength ran through the entire government stock.

NEW YORK COTTON.

New York, Oct. 4 (A.P.).—Favorable weather advices and larger private crop estimates seemed responsible for declines in the cotton market today. December contracts sold off to 20.91, or 50 points below yesterday's closing quotation, but recovered some of the loss during late trading, and closed at 21.19. The market was steady, at net declines of 18 to 26 points.

The market opened steady at a decline of 7 to 11 points in response to better weather news, and after early irregularity, showed increasing steadiness under Southern and local selling, much of which was attributed to liquidation of old long accounts. Southern hedging also was reported in earlier trading, and while it was not evidence of a general or aggressive demand.

The break extended to 20.67 for October, and 21.25 for November, early afternoon, when the market appeared to be influenced by a private report attributing the local crop to 21.25, compared with a mid-September indication of 13.78 million bales. A report published by local crop interests suggesting a difference of 21.25 million bales between minimum and maximum figures, and there were reports of trade buying and covering, as prices showed recoveries of about 20 to 28 points.

Much of the day's business was attributed to the orders to a further reduction of the interest rate in preparation for next Saturday's Government crop report, and the uncertainty was said to exist with reference to its probable showing, owing to the fact that private reports recently published have ranged from 22.58 million to 17.55 million bales, suggesting a difference of 21.25 million bales between minimum and maximum figures, and there were reports of trade buying and covering, as prices showed recoveries of about 20 to 28 points.

Private cables said Manchester and continental buying had absorbed hedge selling and local market, and the market appeared to have improved considerably from the continent and Egypt, but that year's crop was not yet known.

Exports today, 18,887, making 1,206,624 for the year to date. The total, 10,031,630, United States port stocks, 1,748,360.

Macaw Wins Secondary Purse; Rider Is Hurt in Spill.

LAUREL RACE TRACK, Oct. 4.—Twenty thousand racers witnessed the first day's racing here this afternoon and saw J. E. Widener's 3-year-old gelding, Osmaund, win the $5,000 added Capital Handicap from a select field under a smart ride by Earl Sande, who forced a fast pace from the start. Osmaund, the favorite, drew into an easy lead rounding the far turn and at the finish was a length in front of Prince of Wales.

By WESTBROOK PEGLER. Advantage of Winning First Game Big, Says McGraw.

By JOHN J. MCGRAW. Manager, New York Giants. PITTSBURGH, Oct. 4.—The selection of pitchers for the opening game of the series is of the utmost importance, perhaps, than that of any other game. The advantage of winning the first game is a big one, even though the team to score first blood in a world's series often has lost out in the long run. A game won is a game won, however, and the feeling of having landed the first punch means a lot to morale.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 4 (A.P.).—Infield is the fastest they have played on this year. "It's as hard as a rock," said Joe Dugan, the New York third sacker, "and you will see some fast shots going through during the next two games. If Ruth and Gehrig played a season on this field they would kill some infielders."

corpse of right-handers to compete with the Pirates stars. To match the newness of the Yankees they have plenty of outfield speed in Ruth, Meusel and Combs. The infield, with the veteran Dugan aided by a young but much improved trio in Lazzari, Koenig and Gehrig, is close to a defensive match for the Pirate inner cordon; but behind the bat, neither Collins, Bengough or Grabowski measures up to the all-around skill of Earl Smith, best of the Pirate receivers.

Breaking in third place, Osmaund trailed the fast pace that What'll I do set the first quarter and then gradually opened up a lead of a length rounding the far turn.

Sande then shook Osmaund up a bit and the Widener horse again drew away at the end of the race.

There were four starters in the Patient steeplechase and only two finished. The winner was Elder, who beat the favorite, Mantoulon, out of lengths and a half.

The Glenn Riddle Farm furnished the winner of the second race when Canteen beat Running Brook out a length and a half.

Workman had the mount on the first named, while Sande was on the Widener filly.

Workman made his move with Canteen and the latter bounded to the front and at the finish was going away.

Meusala was not as fortunate as the winner in the early stages. She was slow to get going, and Sande was forced to weave his way through the big field.

Workman's finish on Canteen was a fine exhibition. One of his stirrups continued on page 14, column 1.

HOOPER FORECASTS NEW FUND NEEDED FOR FLOOD RELIEF

Red Cross Convention Hears
Vivid Story of Continuing
Need of Victims.

DISEASE PREVENTION WORK CALLED RECORD

Delegates Discuss Coordination of City and Rural Chapter Operations.

Another appeal for funds may be necessary to care for the destitute inhabitants and continue the work of rehabilitation in the devastated Mississippi flood areas, Secretary Herbert Hoover declared last night at the Mississippi flood relief session of the American Red Cross convention in the United States Chamber of Commerce Building.

Although there will be approximately $1,000,000 remaining in the flood relief treasury of the Red Cross by January 1, Mr. Hoover said, it is impossible now to tell whether that will be enough to carry on the work of mercy in the flood areas. If another call is made for funds, he said, the amount asked for will be comparatively small.

Describing the Red Cross as the "national arm of defense against disaster and against suffering," Mr. Hoover declared that it is the sole agency in this country which can guarantee the people that loss of life will be averted and suffering mitigated in time of public tragedy. The Red Cross must assume and carry that responsibility, he asserted.

Pictures Prove Inadequate.
Motion pictures of the flood were shown but Mr. Hoover said that no picture or description could convey the immensity of the flood to persons who did not witness it.

He praised the work of the Red Cross during the trying days of the disaster, but added that there must be no let-up in the work of rehabilitation. More than two and a fourth million acres in the Mississippi Valley are in such condition that crops cannot be raised on them this winter, he pointed out. The inhabitants of this territory are destitute and, while many have not yet asked for aid, they must be cared for during the winter, he said.

Dr. William R. Redden, national medical officer of the Red Cross, described the work done by doctors and scientists in the flooded areas as "the greatest protective piece of work in the history of the country." All of the country has been benefited by the medical work done during the flood, he said, and added that the greatest advances in public health work that the country has ever seen has been made in the flooded areas since the water receded.

Rural Problem Discussed.
Lieut. Col. George R. Spalding, U. S. A., who directed rescue work during the flood, told of his experiences. T. J. McCarthy, Louisiana State reconstruction officer, also spoke. Judge John Barton Payton, chairman of the American Red Cross, presided.

The delegates at the morning session yesterday gathered in conference rooms to discuss city and city chapter work, charity and medical service and details of meeting the $5,000,000 goal set by the central committee for the 1928 enrollment.

Coordination of city chapters of the Red Cross with the smaller rural branches is one of the outstanding problems facing the convention. Emerson H. Landis, of Dayton, newly elected chairman of the convention, declared yesterday. He said one of the most important phases of the peace-time program lies in business medical and health aid to isolated communities where doctors are rare.

Eight sections of the volunteer service round-table conference were in session yesterday and most of the administrative problems facing the convention were acted on. These problems, crystallized in the form of resolutions, were presented to the delegates at the closing session of the convention tomorrow.

Of the child welfare clinic of Children's Hospital, outlined the work done at the institution at the health and aid round-table conference yesterday morning. Mrs. R. A. Chappell and Mrs. A. A. Maybach, of the District health aids, were in charge of the conference.

Round table conferences will hold the attention of the delegates today and a general session will be held tonight in the auditorium of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Cup Will Be Awarded To Fire Company

The Merchants and Manufacturers Association cup award to the truck company making the best record in leaving quarters on alarm in the competition, which was won by Truck Company No. 14, last July, will be presented Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the firehouse, Connecticut avenue and Ordway street.

Maj. Gen. Anton Stephan, president of the Merchants Association, will present the cup, which will be received on behalf of the truck company by Commissioner Proctor L. Dougherty. Truck Company No. 14, of which Oscar Leaman is captain, won the event with the time of 6.4 seconds in leaving quarters, with Private T. E. Berkeley at the wheel.

10 Held as Witnesses After Gambling Raid

Joseph A. Fitzgerald, 35 years old, 49 Eighth street northeast, was arrested yesterday in a raid on 803 North Capitol street and charged with permitting gambling.

Approximately ten others were summoned as Government witnesses. Policemen C. C. Penn, J. R. Barrett and W. T. Burroughs, of the Sixth Precinct, conducted the raid.

Woman Is Injured By Olive Oil Burns

While preparing breakfast yesterday morning, Mrs. Zenia Borzile, 30 years old, 1228 B street northeast, was severely burned by hot olive oil which she accidentally spilled.

Mrs. Borzile was treated at Casualty Hospital by Dr. Goldofsky for burns to both arms, right leg and body.

7-Year-Old Suit Dismissed.
The seven-and-a-half-year-old suit for $5,841 damages filed by John C. L. Ritter against the Standard Coal Co. was dismissed yesterday by Justice Bailey in Circuit Court because of the failure of Ritter to appear. Ritter claimed this amount under the anti-trust laws which denounce and punish combinations in restraint of trade.

Leon Tobin, counsel for the company, asked that the case be dismissed for want of prosecution.

NEW NORTHEAST STREET TO AID TRAFFIC PLANNED

Park Board Committee Plan Would Link Seventeenth and Eighteenth.

ACTION TO COME SOON

Creation of an additional thoroughfare to link Seventeenth and Eighteenth streets northeast, between B street and Ames place, was favored yesterday by the coordinating committee of the National Capital Park and Planning Commission. This new roadway, carrying out the highway plan, will be submitted to the commission for approval at its October meeting.

The action was taken to provide a cross-town thoroughfare between the Southeast section and Bladensburg road so that congestion at Fifteenth and H streets northeast may be relieved and all cross-town traffic north of Benning road and south-bound traffic may avoid this point.

Seventeenth street ends and Eighteenth street is less than a half block away from the point where it is planned to open the new section. A slight turn in the highway, involving purchase of a small amount of land, will provide a through street that will carry traffic to Bladensburg road, where Eighteenth street intersects in the neighborhood of Mount Olivet Cemetery.

A change in the highway plan providing for continuation of Seventeenth street northwest, from A road to connect with Nicholson street, also was approved. At this point Seventeenth street is but a block long on the edge of Rock Creek Park and a continuous street is desired.

HITZ TO SETTLE LOAN COMPANIES' RIGHTS

Maryland Firm Asks Dismissal of Injunction Bill of City Debtors.

The rights of loan companies just outside of the District, who do business with Washingtonians and accepted as security for loans mortgages on property located here, together with the rights of the borrowers, will be settled by Justice William Hitz, of Equity Court No. 1. The court yesterday took under advisement a motion filed by the American Small Loan Co., of Mount Rainier, Md., to dismiss an injunction bill presented by James C. Sheas and his wife, Dorothy Sheas, of 1210 Perry street northeast. The Sheas complained of the alleged usurious rate of 3 1/2 per cent interest per month on a loan of $800.

They gave a chattel mortgage on their personal effects as security. They offered to repay the loan at the rate of 6 per cent per annum and the company refused. To prevent a sale of their belongings the plaintiffs demanded an injunction.

Edwin C. Dutton, counsel for the company, contended the equity courts of this jurisdiction could not interfere with the affairs of a foreign corporation even though the security for the loan made to the Sheas was located in the District. Louis B. Montague, counsel for the plaintiffs, contended that the company had no license to do business in the District and that their interest rate charged was illegal. Justice Hitz requested both attorneys to file briefs.

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT QUITS FRAUD SUITS

Abandonment of Realty Cause
Here Ends Cases Growing
Out of War.

The United States Government has abandoned the last of the so-called war-fraud suits instituted in this jurisdiction. Justice Jennings Bailey, of the Circuit Division of the District of Columbia Supreme Court, at the request of the Government yesterday dismissed the suit filed against the Newbury Realty Co., of Boston, Mass., in which the sum of $28,210.24 was sought to be recovered as having been erroneously paid out on authorization of Newton D. Baker, former Secretary of War, to the company.

Mr. Baker accepted the recommendation of Col. Arthur A. O'Brien, of the War Department Board of Appraisers, that the money be paid for changes alleged to have been made in a building in Boston leased to the Government by the company as a depot for the Quartermaster's Corps of the Army. It was charged that Col. O'Brien and David P. Maloney, counsel for the company, had conspired to defraud, but the charges failed. The Government then proceeded to sue the company.

Commission Orders Policeman Removed

The District Commissioners at their biweekly meeting yesterday approved the action of the police trial board in ordering Policeman R. B. Gujlaro removed from the force.

Policeman Gujlaro, who was attached to the Tenth Precinct, was placed on trial September 22 on a charge of desertion, it being alleged that he was absent without leave for three days.

"We are taking our place in the business life of Washington with every confidence in the outcome," said Julian Goldman, president of the corporation, adding:
"Our policy is modeled on the faith that no worthwhile success can be achieved by any business organization which fails to conserve and faithfully safeguard the best interests of its customers, as well as its own. We have never deviated a hairbreadth from this policy, and never will."
The next step in this alert corporation's new program of national expansion which the starting of the Washington store inaugurates, will carry the campaign to Atlanta, Ga., where a large Julian Goldman store will be opened within the next few days.
Several other cities are in contemplation by the corporation and some of them negotiations for advantageous sites for Julian Goldman stores are already under way.

Elaborate Store Planned for Capital By Julian Goldman

Washington is to have a new store, opening on or about October 15, in the heart of the fashionable shopping center at 1315-17 F street northwest.
It will be a Julian Goldman Store, Inc., the country's largest organization in the field of retail apparel trade for men, women and children—conducting 55 stores in that number of progressive cities east of the Mississippi River and now starting upon an intensive program of national expansion.
The premises, owned and formerly occupied by the Federal American National Bank of Washington and leased by the new occupants for a long term of years, have been remodeled throughout at a cost of more than $100,000, and the announcement is made that the new store will take rank unquestionably as the finest of its kind in the United States.
Frederic B. Pyle, of this city, is the architect who has planned and directed the elaborate work of reconstruction and no expense has been spared in carrying out the big remodeling project down to the last detail.
First Floor for Women.
The new store will have two floors superbly finished in carved woodwork and specially designed paneling and will be equipped with every up-to-the-minute convenience known to the highest grade of store architecture. The first floor will house the women's department. It will be devoted exclusively to the sale of coats, cloaks, suits, dresses, furs and millinery embodying distinctive styles transplanted direct from Paris and London, together with lingerie, gloves, hosiery and clothing for the little girls in the entire range of fashionable lines and popular novelties suitable for children of all ages.
The second floor will be just as distinctly for the men, old and young, and the boys from the footloose age down to the little toddlers still in their mothers' arms. Here will be presented an offering in overcoats, suits, hats, hosiery and shoes which will reproduce accurately the latest and best in London fashions, copied down to the smallest detail by the skilled craftsmen of the Julian Goldman organization.
These two floors will be connected by an artistic and beautiful Grand Stairway of concrete and iron with an ornamental hand rail wrought in original design. This stairway will be the crowning artistic feature of the new store. It will connect with the second floor through great carved arches, well surrounded by a wide promenade and guarded on the open side by a massive metal balustrade wrought from the design of the architect.

CONFIDENT OF OUTCOME.

"We are taking our place in the business life of Washington with every confidence in the outcome," said Julian Goldman, president of the corporation, adding:
"Our policy is modeled on the faith that no worthwhile success can be achieved by any business organization which fails to conserve and faithfully safeguard the best interests of its customers, as well as its own. We have never deviated a hairbreadth from this policy, and never will."
The next step in this alert corporation's new program of national expansion which the starting of the Washington store inaugurates, will carry the campaign to Atlanta, Ga., where a large Julian Goldman store will be opened within the next few days.
Several other cities are in contemplation by the corporation and some of them negotiations for advantageous sites for Julian Goldman stores are already under way.

Mrs. John Steekline Asks Divorce.
Cruelty and neglect are charged against John Steekline, 3501 Benning road, in a petition for limited divorce filed yesterday in equity court by Mrs. Edna M. Steekline, 512 Eleventh street southeast. They were married in 1920. Attorney D. Edward Clarke appeared for Mrs. Steekline.
